Were the Vikings really Brutal Invaders?

Homework Menu

Here is our half-termly Homework Menu linked to our Spring term topic - Were the Vikings really Brutal Invaders?

As well as reading daily at home and practicing times tables, we are once again using our successful 'Homework Menu'.

Children can choose two activities from the selection of tasks below to complete by the end of the topic. One of the activities should be a Literacy (*) based task.

Make a Viking outfit. It could be for you, a doll or figure.	Make a model of a Viking longhouse	Create a fact file about a Scandinavian country where the Vikings came from. ()	Design a word search or crossword with a Viking theme. ()
Find out about Viking weapons and create a fact sheet with illustrations.	Research Viking Gods. Draw or paint a picture of a Viking God. ()	Research Sutton Hoo. What happened there? Why is it a significant place? ()	Make a model of a Viking longboat.

* Homework can be brought into school to display in our class Homework Gallery and / or be uploaded to Seesaw *
